

Of Viscera and Humours

Of Viscera and Humours is a literary magazine that will serve as a collection of artwork from trainees and teaches from multiple specialties in the field of Medicine.

We look forward to featuring work from students, residents, and attending physicians from multiple specialties on a yearly basis.

Submissions are accepted through the end of February. For inquires and submissions please email ofvisceraandhumours@gmail.com. QR code provided. We will put out an updated flyer when an online submission route is created.

Please contact us if you have any questions about the project or if you or someone you know would like to get involved!
